CHINESE GAIN, REPORT

Junk Returned; Action Of Marines Halted

SHANGHAI, Nov. 2—(UP)—Japanese troops used gas on the Shanghai front today, a Chinese spokesman charged, but were driven back when an unfavorable wind blew it back into their lines. The spokesman said that the Japanese resorted to the use of gas in the Liuhu sector, on the northwestern outskirts of Shanghai, but that the gas had "boomeranged."

The Japanese were driven out from five points they had occupied on the south side of Soochow creek, the spokesman said. He admitted that a naval force had crossed at Chenchiatiao, a mile west of the Toyado cotton mill on the western outskirts of the city.

Township residents voted Tuesday on a proposal to issue bonds for the improvement, to be located on the East side of the school. The addition would contain two classrooms, a kitchen, locker and shower rooms in addition to the gymnasium. Two grades would be transferred to the addition.

2,000,000 MAY CAST BALLOTS FOR CANDIDATES

Threatening Weather To Reduce Estimates In Some Cities

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2—(UP)—More than two million Ohio voters were expected to go to the polls today in an off-year election highlighted by labor's bid to gain control of two important city governments.

Rain and threatening weather in some parts of the state were expected to reduce the anticipated vote slightly.

Interest centered in Akron and Canton where labor-supported mayoral candidates were attempting to unseat incumbent Republicans. In Akron, Mayor Lee D. Schroy opposed Municipal Judge G. L. Patterson, D., labor's non-partisan league candidate backed by both the Committee for Industrial Organization and the American Federation of Labor.

Canton Has Fight
In Canton, league-backed Darrell D. Smith, D., opposed Mayor James Secombe. Smith also had the backing of both labor organizations.

Heated campaigns in both cities, resulting from efforts of the C.I.O. and the Non-Partisan league to make "a showing before the nation," brought charges from both labor candidates that their opponents were biased against labor. In Barberton, Mayor Fred Mar-

FIGHT OVER GIRLS ENDS FATALLY FOR NEW YORK YOUTH

HICKSVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 2—(UP)—Arnold Valentine, 15, was held at the Children's society today while officers investigated the death of Russell Hawkins, 14, who was stabbed to death in a fight over girls.

As County Detective Charles Jones got the story Valentine and John MacDonald, 17, both high school students, were escorting two girls home from a Republican rally. When they passed a spot where a group of other boys were standing, Hawkins and his friends made "wisecracks."

Valentine and MacDonald ignored the remarks and took their girl friends home. Then they returned and a fight started. Hawkins, a grammar school student, and larger than his older opponent, was getting the better of Valentine. It was said, Arnold reached into his pocket, pulled out a knife and a moment later Hawkins was lying on the ground dead. Nassau county police said Valentine admitted the stabbing. They said he would be arraigned in Children's court on a charge of juvenile delinquency.

Paul Johnson was awarded a contract by the county commissioners Monday to furnish furniture and equipment for various offices in the addition to the courthouse. Johnson's bid was $334. There were four bidders.

The equipment was purchased for the county prosecutor, soldiers' relief board, division of aid to dependent children, board of elections, sheriff and clerk of courts. The clerk of courts' office is not in the new addition.

Leist Acts In Electric Rate Fight

Solicitor Granted Leave To File Motions In Injunction Case

Application for leave to file motions in Common Pleas court by Nov. 4 in the light rate controversy was granted to Carl C. Leist, solicitor, Monday, by Judge J. W. Adkins.

Mr. Leist's application asked leave to file a motion to separately state and number the causes of action and also for leave to file an alternative motion to strike certain words and phrases from the petition.

The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. has obtained a court order restraining the mayor and council from taking any steps to place the light issue before voters. The light rate ordinance was attacked with referendum petitions. Hearing on the restraining order for Nov. 15, has been continued until pleadings in case have been handled.

50-CENT LOAN ON CORN APPROVED BY GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—(UP)—Agriculture department officials said today a government loan of 50 cents a bushel on corn will be announced within the next few days.

The loan will be financed with $85,000,000 which President Roosevelt has directed the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make available to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

The amount to be loaned on this year's corn crop has been under study for some weeks by agriculture officials and treasury representatives. Speculation has ranged from 45 cents to 60 cents. Today's revelation of the 50-cent a bushel loan price was the first authoritative word from the agriculture department on the loan figure.

Officials said details of the loan program have not been completed but that they will follow generally the procedure of the loan programs of 1933, 1934 and 1935.

TWO DIE, ANOTHER SERIOUS AFTER STABBING ATTACK

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 2—(UP)—A quarrel that followed a gay Halloween costume party was climaxed today with two women being knifed to death, a third woman dying, and a youth, said by police to have done the stabbing, wounding himself.

Floy Tait, 19, amateur baseball player, was being questioned by police in a hospital as the one who stabbed the three women before he turned an eight-inch butcher knife on himself.

He was found in the hallway of an apartment house with his arm around his sweetheart, Dorothy Bash, 19, who was dead. Inside the apartment of Mrs. Hilda Seymour was Tait's mother, Mrs. Florence Tait, who was lying across a bed, dead. Mrs. Seymour also was stabbed and her condition is said to be serious.

A call from Mrs. Seymour's apartment summoned police about 5 a. m. Officers found Dorothy and young Tait, dressed in gaudy Halloween costumes, in the hallway outside the apartment.

"BORGIA" DENIES POISONING AGED CINCINNATI MEN

Anna Marie Hahn Resting While Jurors Are Given Day For Voting

WOMAN GOES TO STAND

Cross-Examination Brings Cry Of Innocence

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2—(UP)—Anna Marie Hahn, 31-year-old German matron, won a day of rest today from the relentless cross-examination of Prosecutor Dudley M. Outcalt, who sought to prove that she had been a "blonde Borgia" who poisoned four elderly men for their money.

Judge Charles S. Bell adjourned the trial until Wednesday after Mrs. Hahn told a night session how she drove around Colorado Springs, Colo., looking at the "sceneries" with her 12-year-old son, Oscar, while her 67-year-old traveling companion was dying.

The recess was granted so the jury of 11 women and one man could vote in the municipal election.

George Obendorfer, a cobbler, died in a Colorado Springs hospital August 1, and the state contended that he had been poisoned by Mrs. Hahn. She was accused also of poisoning Jacob Wagner, 78, George Geelman, 67, and Albert Palmer, 72. She vigorously denied having caused any of the deaths.

Vacation Claimed

"I went out there on a vacation," she testified, referring to the Colorado Springs trip. "I didn't go to take care of anyone."

She denied that she had been accompanied also by an elderly man from Baltimore, "who was worth $100,000."

On direct examination by her attorney, Joseph Hoodin, Mrs. Hahn, speaking in a low voice with a marked German accent, said that she had tried to get

CRABBE TO SERVE FOR COMMITTEE PROBING ROADS

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2—(UP)—Governor Martin L. Davey's highway investigating committee today selected former Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, of Columbus, as attorney for the committee.

Professor Clyde T. Morris, Ohio State university, chairman of the board of six university professors named by the governor to investigate the highway department, announced that Crabbe has been retained as attorney and Joseph R. Smart, Columbus, as engineer to assist the group in its work.

Crabbe, a Republican, served two terms as attorney general of Ohio. He was born in London, Ohio, where he served as city solicitor. He was three times elected prosecuting attorney of Madison county, and he served two terms in the house of representatives, where he was Republican floor leader. He was the author of Ohio's dry act.

Smart has been connected with the Ohio P.W.A. and with the city of Columbus as an engineer. The investigating committee officially began work today, opening permanent offices in the state office building.

FAILURE TO HAVE LICENSE PUTS MOTORIST IN JAIL

H. O. Eveland, justice of peace, imposed a fine of $25 and costs on Earl Sims, 23, of 222 Wiley avenue, Lancaster, Monday afternoon, when Sims admitted a charge of operating an auto without a driver's license. Sims was committed to jail when he failed to pay.

STUDENTS AT CHICAGO U. VOTE TO KEEP POSITION IN BIG TEN ATHLETICS

CHICAGO, Nov. 2—(UP)—University of Chicago students voted today to maintain a status quo in intercollegiate athletics, in a poll by the student newspaper which has insisted the Maroons drop out of the big ten.

Final returns showed 63.9 percent of the 758 voters favored Chicago's present policy. Another group—23.8 percent—voted to subsidize openly, 6.8 percent were in favor of abolishing intercollegiate athletics and 5.3 percent favored withdrawal from the Big Ten.

TWO POSTOFFICE BANDITS KILLED

Michigan Sheriff, Federal Men Trap Pair Trying To Blow Safe

SMITHS CREEK, Mich., Nov. 2—(UP)—St. Clair county deputies, led by Sheriff William L. Van Antwerp, shot and killed two bandits in a gun battle at the postoffice here early today.

The dead men were identified as Frank Nowaszek, 38, and Edward Scherer, 40, both of Detroit.

County officers said the men walked into a trap that had been set for them. After the bandits had been frightened off Sunday night, Sheriff Van Antwerp's forces and two Detroit postal inspectors gathered at the postoffice last night.

As the gunmen attempted to open the safe with an explosive (Continued on Page Eight)

APPLE TROUBLE PUTS SENATOR ON "THE SPOT"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—(UP)—The "big apple" bobbed up today as something to worry Senator Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio—but it was the fruit itself, not the dance craze.

Because the Federal Surplus Commodity Corp. has set a two and one-half inch diameter minimum on size of apples it will buy, Ohio apple growers wrote the senator asking him to do something about it. This apple, they say, is too big.

Charles H. Adams, East Palestine, one of the largest apple producers in eastern Ohio, suggested to Bulkley that the government reduce measurement requirements on Baldwin and Grimes apples to 2 1/4 inches.

Members of the Ashabula County Horticultural society, representing growers in Ashabula, Lake, Geauga and neighboring counties, also complained. The senator is taking up the matter with the Commodity Corporation.

FIREMEN REQUEST TOYS BE DONATED FOR YULE SEASON

Circleville firemen are receiving toys for repair for distribution to needy kiddies on Christmas.

They urge persons who have old toys to bring them in as early as possible so they will have ample time to make repairs. Some of the toys require considerable work. A few toys have arrived at the department. Residents sent in some during the Spring housecleaning season. A few more were received Tuesday.

FARM FIRE LOSS HIGH

WASHINGTON C. H., Nov. 2—Loss estimated between $12,000 and $15,000 resulted from a fire of undetermined origin that destroyed the C. F. Higley dairy barn, a horse barn and large granary. The farm is a mile and a half west of the city.

ELECTION BOARD PREDICTS EARLY BALLOT COUNT

Total To Be 1,330 Less Than Those Cast In Presidential Race

RAIN FALLS IN MORNING

Most Interest Centers In Mayor's Fight

Board of election officials predicted Tuesday that the result of Circleville's municipal election will be known early in the evening.

After a check of city polling places during the morning, members predicted a "fair sized" vote. Lawrence Johnson, clerk of the board, estimated that Tuesday's vote would be 3,000 as compared to 4,330 at the last presidential election. He said information from election workers showed the vote was "singly, slowly but steadily" coming in during the morning.

The polls close at 6:30 p. m. and first reports are expected to reach the board about 7:30 or 8 p. m. Members said the ballots would be easily counted. They predicted tabulations would be completed by 9:30 or 10 o'clock on the city tickets.

Rural Delay Possible

Results of the rural district are expected to be delayed considerably. Some districts are slow in reporting. Rural workers have been asked to report results to headquarters Tuesday night, but since no state reports are required as the voting is entirely on local issues, some may delay filing results.

Drizzling rain, expected to reduce voting in the city, was an indication of a heavy vote in rural districts. The rain hails farm work and more persons go to the polls.

Tuesday's election was one of the "coolest" elections in many years.

Democrats conducted a "get-out-the-vote" campaign with the committee solidly behind W. B. Cady, former mayor.

The most interest centered on the mayoralty race with William J. Graham, Republican, seeking a second term against Cady.

POSTOFFICE ASKS EARLY MAIL FOR OTHER COUNTRIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—(UP)—The postoffice department today warned against delay in mailing Christmas packages designated for foreign countries.

A Yuletide gift designated for delivery in Siam must reach New York by Nov. 17. If the shipment is by the way of Pacific coast ports mailing can be delayed to Nov. 20.

Mailing dates from New York include: England, France, Germany and Ireland, Dec. 15; Scotland, Dec. 13; Russia, Dec. 8; and from the Pacific coast, China, Dec. 4; Japan, Dec. 11; Hawaii, Dec. 11.

HUGH LEASURE, ROSS COUNTY CANDIDATE, DIES

Colerain Township Man, Asking Trustee's Job In Auto Mishap

HEART ATTACK BLAMED

Two Would-Be Officials Arrested; Third Dead

CHILLICOTHE, Nov. 2—Hugh Leasure's name appears on the ballot for Tuesday's election as a candidate for short term trustee of Colerain township, Ross county, but it will avail nothing to elect Leasure for he is dead, victim of an automobile accident following what Dr. E. E. Henninger of Adelphi characterized as a sudden heart attack.

According to Dr. Henninger, Leasure evidently suffered a stroke late Monday in Hallsville, lost control of his automobile and drove over a bank where the car struck a post. He was alive when passersby took him from the car, but he soon died.

Another candidate, Homer Boster, 47 years old, seeking a Huntington township trusteeship, was fined $250 and was sentenced to serve 60 days in the Cincinnati workhouse today when he pleaded guilty of possession of whisky for sale.

A third candidate, John O. Stoneburner, 25, R. R. 1, Ray, a candidate for Vincent Township Trustee, was arrested over the week-end and charged with drunk-driving. Deputy Sheriff Don Lowery, who made the arrest, said Stoneburner's car was weaving from side to side.

Meanwhile, residents of the South Salem Community mourned the passing of W. Clayton Smalley, the third Ross justice of the peace to die within a few months. Smalley, 76, died over the week-end after a brief illness following a stroke. He was justice in Buckskin township.

Barbara Stanwyck will make her guest appearance Sunday, Nov. 7, instead of the previous week as originally scheduled. Picture work kept Miss Stanwyck from joining the 'big show cast this week.

Next Sunday however she and Don Ameche will be starred in the dramatic highlight of the full hour broadcast over the NBC red network at 8 p. m. (EST). Nelson Eddy, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, the Stroud Twins, Dorothy Lamour and Robert Armstrong's orchestra complete the bill.

Nelson Eddy sings the "Riff

Meeting Miss Stanwyck, Charlie McCarthy will be somewhat more at home again. He finds it a lot easier to get acquainted with the picture folk than with the elusive Betty Lou who couldn't even be seen.

36 Men Appointed For Service With Caravan

MARIETTA, Nov. 2—The ox team caravan, feature spectacle of the year-long Northwest Territory Celebration which will recreate the trek of the pioneers of 150 years ago to the Northwest Territory, is another step nearer realization with the final selection of the 36 men who will be the members of the party.

The men selected come from thirteen different states. Ohio is represented by 16 members, Illinois by 4, Indiana and Massachusetts by 3 each, Minnesota by two, and Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, North Carolina, South Carolina and West Virginia by one member each.

Each of the men, whose ages range from 20 to 35, was chosen from the vast number of applicants because of some recognized superiority which would fit him into the scheme or the pioneer trek.

Those selected will met at Marietta on Monday and were transported to Fort Devens, Ayer, Mass., for a month's training period prior to departure.

The caravan of ox team, Conestoga wagon, pack horses, and the men dressed in costumes of the period will leave Ipswich, Mass., Dec. 3. Arriving at Summerhill's Ferry, Pa., in late January, they will go into the forest and cut trees with which to build boats to be used for the remainder of the journey to Marietta. After their arrival at Marietta on April 7, and their participation in the city's elaborately planned birthday party, the party will continue through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota; states carved from the Northwest Territory. Each night, while the caravan is travelling, an inspiring historical pageant will be presented by the members of the party. More than 250 showings will be made during the course of the celebration continuing until the late Fall of 1938.

TOWN COUNCIL VOTES TO BUY TRAFFIC LIGHTS

Ashville Officials Plan Improvement At Borror, School Corners

BUILDING IS DISCUSSED

Other News Notes From Community

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 79

Council was in session Monday evening and besides paying the usual grist of bills, purchased two street lights at $67 each, one to be placed at the old school house—Borror corner and the other at the new school building.

The purchase of the old school building by the village was under discussion and with favor toward the purchase.

"Honey" of Story

Got a "honey" of a story yesterday. A fine and large road truck parked on Main street was lettered on its sides "Fair Field Honey, Millersport, Ohio." A young man, neatly dressed in white uniform, was taking heavy paper cartons from the truck and carrying them into a nearby grocery store. Having served as my dad's helper with some 75 colonies of bees when a youngster at home, we could talk "bee" to this young man and make him believe it. When he found that we were just after a story and didn't intend holding up his outfit or him, he was quite willing to tell us all about the Fairfield honey ranch.

Some few years ago, he told us, a man named Joest got the idea there was money to be made with bees, so he made a start with three or four colonies. Year by year this

Probe Deaths

MRS. Agnes Ledford, 35, is held without bail at Portland, Ore., jail while police investigate three mysterious deaths. Her two step-daughters, Ruth and Dorothy Ledford, and her first husband, John Matson, died under strange circumstances. Traces of poison were assertedly found in bodies of all three persons.

small beginning with these colonies, grew until it was necessary to take the old flivver and make the rounds among stores to dispose of his surplus on hand. In the meantime he was learning more about bees and how best to handle them for more money and money.

Mr. Joest now has 900 colonies of the finest honey making bees anywhere to be found and five of these road trucks out all the time disposing of the bees' labor.

Before his death a few years ago, Mr. Hurst, of Williamsport territory, was one of the leading bee men in the state.

HOCKING GLASS FIRM IS SOLD TO NEW YORKERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 — (UP) — Stockholders of the Anchor Cap Corp., will meet Nov. 18 to approve acquisition of the Hocking Glass Co., of Lancaster, O., it was announced today.

Ashville 600 Votes Expected

When Bob Hoover passes the Herald to his good size list of customers this evening, beginning at 5:30, there will yet be an hour to go before the polls close at 6:30.

Those who claim to know, say that at least 600 ballots will be voted and more than this number, rather than less. Within the years that we have known Ashville politics, this campaign has them all beat for mud slinging. And just how well it has stuck fast will be told when the ballots are counted. Our story last night of mother and son serving on the Ashville west precinct election board, has been spoiled by Warren, the Seeds' son, not accepting a place on the board. He had been named alright, so the story sticks.

Ashville Many Veteran Officials

Among those now living who served Ashville in an official capacity away back in the eighties are G. A. Hook, W. H. Brobeck, Ward B. Powell, Philip Teegardin and there may be others whom we fail to name. W. H. Brobeck served as village clerk over a longer period of years than any other in that constructive time.

ASHVILLE SCHOOL NEWS

Several rooms of the Ashville school held Halloween parties Friday afternoon. The first and second grades held their party together, outside the school house. They had a few visitors. The children were all masked in all kinds of costumes. Games were played and then the children were treated by their teachers, Miss Tallman and Miss Kuhn.

The third grade darkened their room at the ringing of the bell and lit their Jack-O-lanterns. They had their room beautifully decorated with pumpkins, skeletons, ghosts and witches. They followed the color scheme of orange and black. Most of the pupils were masked. Lovely prizes were given to the following: Charles Ward and Josephine Toole. They had as visitors, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Irvin.

The fourth grade represented Halloween by having a play named "Earth Magic," in reading and poems and Halloween stories in English. They also had their room decorated in orange and black.

The fifth grade had a Halloween party. The pupils took turns of standing on the floor while the others guessed who they were. They had as visitors for the occasion, Mrs. Herb Gregg and Mrs. Arthur Sampson.

The sixth grade had planned their party a week before hand, though no one knew about the happenings but the teacher, Miss Hedges. A skeleton was pinned on the door as you entered. The room was dark with the exception of burning candles. The pupils were all masked in brilliant costumes. After the revealing of the masked pupils, games were played during the rest of the afternoon. The pupils and their teacher were delighted to have as their guests, many of the pupil's mothers. The room was decorated with the many things that represent Halloween and the lighted candles throwing off a reddish beam into the room. Prizes were awarded to: Freda Meets, and to Lowell Neece and George Leatherwood.

The Scioto Valley Grange held a Halloween party Tuesday evening. Songs were sung and games were played during the evening. A lunch was served, after which a meeting was held.

LIQUOR STORE PROFITS REACH $6,618,298.56

Total Expenses In 1936 Climb To $32,183,199, Audit Discloses

LARGE STOCK RAPPED

1,827 Persons Employed In Department

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2—(UP)—

Profits of the state liquor stores for the year 1936 amounted to $6,618,298.56, according to an audit report filed today with State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson by State Examiner Joseph I. Balmert.

Liquor sales during the year ended Dec. 28, 1936, amounted to $44,635,878, this figure including $6,252,713 in liquor gallonage taxes included in the selling price.

Cost to the state of liquor sold during the year was $28,568,925, according to the report, and total expenses of the monopoly system were $32,183,199, including liquor costs.

Operating expenses of the department were $3,578,835 compared to $2,769,801 for 1935.

Total number of employees in the department increased from 1399 in 1935 to 1827 in 1936. In 1934 the department employed only 975 persons.

In the enforcement division the number of employees increased from 168 in 1935 to 197 in 1936, and the operating cost of this division jumped from $488,987 to $702,516 in 1936, the report said.

Shortages in state stores and agencies, as disclosed by audits of these outlets, totaled $10,665 during the year, including $3693 resulting from burglaries and hold-ups and $580 caused by failure of employees to account for cash receipts.

Criticizing the carrying of excessive liquor stocks, the report pointed out that although department officials have said that a three weeks' supply of liquor is adequate, making possible approximately 17 turnovers a year, the department's inventory disclosed that approximately five weeks' stock is being carried at all times.

More money would have been available for old age pensions, had it not been for this excessive investment in liquor stocks, the report said.

GASOLINE FUMES EXPLODE, HURTING MAN; SPARK CITED

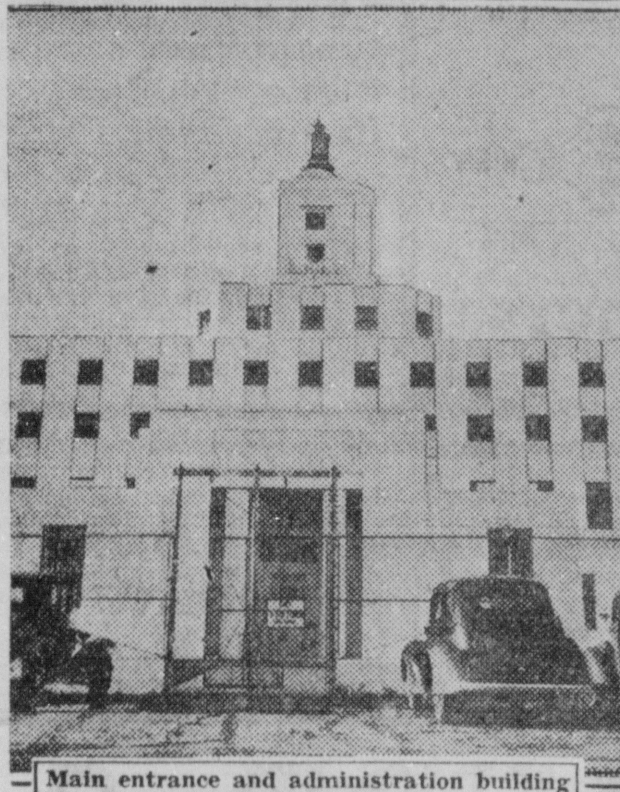

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2—(UP)—An explosion of gasoline fumes yesterday injured one man, hurled two others into a driveway and partly wrecked a service station here.

The injured man was Ernest Oros, 27, who was thrown against a wall by the blast, burned and bruised. A spark from faulty electric equipment ignited the fumes, authorities said.

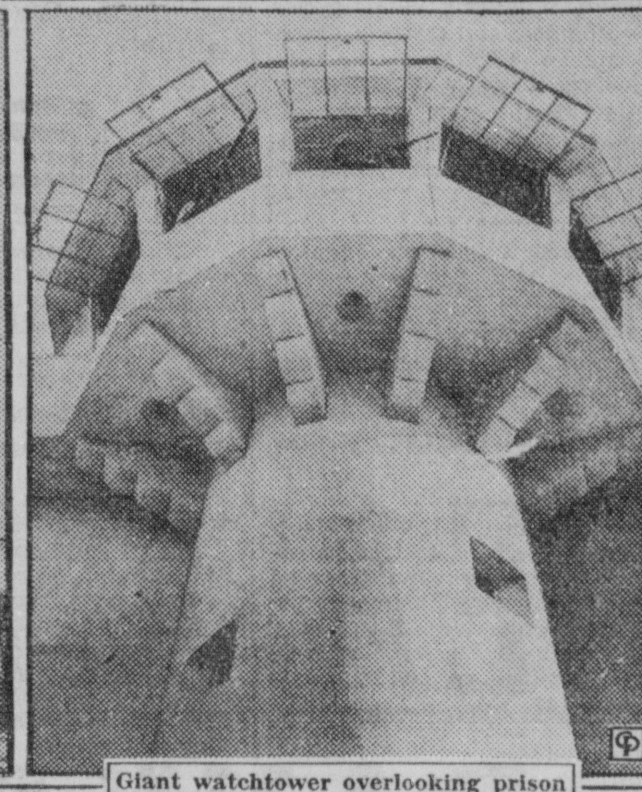

Chaingangs "On Way Out" in Georgia State Takes Prisoners From Counties; New Prison Termed an "Alcatraz"

View of WPA-built penitentiary

Main entrance and administration building

Giant watchtower overlooking prison

ATLANTA, Nov. 2—The chaingang is on the way out of Georgia.

Gradually the most dangerous prisoners have been moved to the "Alcatraz in the Piney Woods". That is the name given by the prisoners themselves to Georgia's $1,300,000 PWA-built state prison in Tatnall county.

Governor E. D. Rivers has indicated that the most "desperate" convicts, as he terms them, will be concentrated in Tatnall county. The others, "trusties," will be placed in "honor camps" where they will work on highways, but will not wear stripes or shackles.

County Camps Abandoned
Confirmation of the administration's intention to go through with these plans have come from State Senator Lee S. Purdom, chairman of the senate's penitentiary committee. He says:

"Relieving counties of all responsibility for roads as recommended by a special tax committee, will enable them to abandon their convict camps and stockades, permitting the state to have a uniform prison system instead of the present 133 different systems in different counties.

"I firmly believe we shall have a better system under state control."

Improvement in Georgia's penal system has been steadily going forward this year.

In March the state prison commission abolished the stocks as a method of punishment.

Lash Forbidden
A few weeks ago the attorney general gave an opinion forbidding the return of the lash, citing a state constitutional ban on corporal punishment.

The state occupied the new Tatnall penitentiary this autumn. It can house approximately 2,500 of the more than 7,000 convicts in Georgia chaingangs and prisons. Elaborate precautions have been taken to prevent escapes. A guard in a bullet-proof cage is able to operate all cell block doors by the manipulation of levers. It is possible to pipe tear gas through the building, so that it can be released from a central control in case of riots. And an electric eye can be used to detect metal articles secreted by incoming prisoners or visitors.

In a Jungle-Like Woods
True, there already has been one escape from the prison, but this occurred before the institution was properly manned or organized.

The prison is a self-contained community. It is surrounded for miles by the jungle-like scrub pine of Georgia's coastal plain.

"A guy'd get lost in them woods just as quick as he'd drown in San Francisco bay," one tough prisoner said when he dubbed it "Alcatraz of the piney woods."

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

Dick Powell, star of "The Singing Marine" now at the Grand Theatre was just about the most astonished young man in Hollywood one day a few weeks ago.

It seems that ever since he and his wife, Joan Blondell, moved into their new Beverly Hills home they have been having difficulties with maids. So one day they called the employment agency.

A succession of girls of various experience, references and color-applied for the job. Finally they came to one who looked as though she would work out very well.

As the interview progressed, both he and Joan had just about decided that they would take the girl. Then the matter of terms came up.

Came the flooring development! "An' I wants a six months contract," the colored girl said. "Everybody in Hollywood has a contract, so why shouldn't I?"

AT THE CLIFTONA

A lavish musical drama taken from the pages of one of the most stirring periods in American history is "High, Wide and Handsome," starring Irene Dunne, which is showing for the last time tonight at the Cliftona Theatre. The story of courageous pioneering during the early oil boom days of Pennsylvania, is set to as lifting a musical score as was ever composed for the screen.

Back to the period in American history when Pennsylvania farmers were fighting to establish the industry that has "lighted the lamps of the world" went Paramount for this impressive singing saga. Using the historical facts, surrounding the first discovery of oil in the little town of Titusville in 1859, as the basis for its narrative, the picture succeeds in giving a convincing realism to those exciting days, with the added enchantment of songs interpreting the gayest spirit of the times.

Rouben Mamoulian, who won the New York Film Critics' award for the best direction of 1936 with "The Gay Desperado," utilizes a rare talent for synchronizing in-finitely tuneful melodies with a highly dramatic narrative.

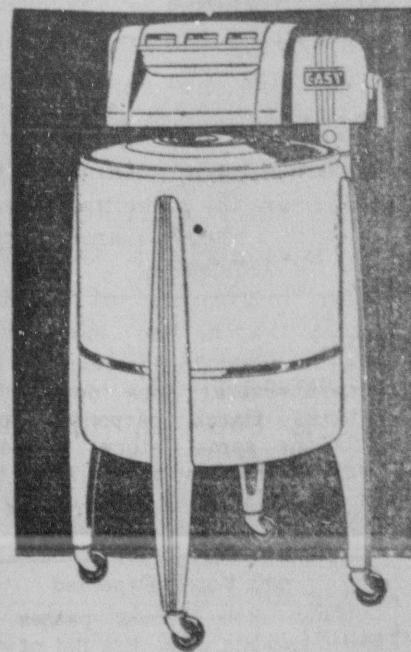

Irene Dunne, in the role of a carnival songstress, gives to the world the latest melodies of Oscar Hammerstein II, and Jerome Kern, including that rollicking title song everyone is already humming, "High, Wide and Handsome," a couple of romantic melodies striking for their simplicity, "Can I Forget You," "The Things I Want," and a song reminiscent of bygone days, "Allegheny Al." "The Folks Who Live on the Hill" is another of the quaint and appealing light operatic airs destined to last a long time.

WAR IN SCHOOL ROOMS
THE disrupting effect of war, in a minor field, has been learned by the children actively engaged in the foreign correspondence project of the Junior Red Cross. The youngsters made, last spring, and sent to school children in Japan, an album containing pictures, hand-made objects, letters, and so on, giving a good version of their own school life. Such interchange between American pupils and those of many foreign lands has been promoted by the Junior Red Cross for some years as a basis for mutual understanding and friendliness between nations. It is also very helpful in making geography a favorite school subject.
The album, under normal conditions, would have brought a response from the Japanese children to whom it was sent. They would have sent dolls or toys or articles of their own making and representative of their life. They have not done so. War is named as the reason. The Junior Red Cross fears Japan will have to be dropped from the exchange list, as Spain has been.
This, of course is the least of the things children suffer from war, but it has its lesson.

THE COMMUNITY FUND
IN 454 cities throughout the country Community Chest workers are warming up for the big annual campaign for funds. The agencies supported or aided by community chests are concerned chiefly with welfare work and social adjustment, and only slightly with direct relief—food, shelter, and so on. They provide foster homes for children whose parents are unable to take care of them properly. They provide recreation, dispensary care, assistance or advice of many kinds to meet many needs. Broken homes, broken lives, the handicapped, the lonely, the orphan and many others may receive sympathetic and intelligent help because many thousands of small givers have pooled their contributions in community chests to finance such services.
Charles P. Taft, organization chairman of the National Mobilization for Human Needs, summed up the purpose briefly in a recent radio talk.
“If it is difficult to believe in the community losses that come because suffering is not relieved, it is even harder to realize the losses that come because the youth agencies are not given a chance to build character into boys’ and girls’ activities. When those failures of ours are turned into criminal statistics, we can shout about more and better police, but that is like quarantine after epidemic starts.”
That the community chests have survived the depression, though working on cramped budgets, and have survived the

For a long time Secretary of State Cordell Hull has been a Democratic presidential possibility. The other day the Tennessee state senate formally endorsed him for the 1940 nomination.
He will not get it. He is a little too old—will be in his last year toward 70 by next presidential election day.
There is no other count against him.
To the contrary, I venture to say that he is the most generally and highly respected member of today’s cabinet.
It is just too bad that Father Time has him stymied.
NOT SPECTACULAR
The beauty of Cordell Hull is that his reputation is based upon unadulterated brains and probity.
He is not spectacular. He is unimpressive, vocally speaking. He looks well, indeed, is a handsome old man. His voice, however, is aqueous; poor, for radio purposes.
But what Hull SAYS is the “goods.”
He does not make an audience hoarse and yell with excitement at his resonance, but folk go home and THINK about what he has told them.

EXPERTS WATCH BUSINESS
WASHINGTON — White House master minds are awaiting the trend of business developments during the next few weeks with bated breath. Government experts have informed them that November will tell the story of whether the business slump is merely a temporary recession or the beginning of another major depression.
If consumer buying picks up, then the winter’s outlook is hopeful. Christmas trade will supply another big shot in the arm and conditions can be expected to remain more or less on an even keel until the seasonal spring upturn.
But if consumer buying doesn’t pick up—then the experts warned, watch for a nose dive in January or February.
The key to the situation, they told the President, is prices. Their diagnosis is that steadily mounting prices were the root cause of the current slump.
As late as September prices continued to climb skyward. The result was that people just stopped buying. This left retailers with large inventories of high priced goods and they shut down on new orders. This in turn shut down mills and factories, the stock market took to the storm cellar and an ominous slump was in full swing.
A hopeful development, according to the experts, is that in the last few weeks prices have started to retreat.
Speculative commodities, grains, cotton, metals, wool and rubber are off. Some food items also have declined. Still other drops are expected.
The question now is whether the reductions came in time. The coming weeks will tell the fateful story.

GREEN VS. LEWIS
Somebody asked Nels Anderson, WPA labor expert, what he thought of the clash between labor leaders Lewis and Green, and the probable outcome.
Anderson produced a photostat sheet with two signatures on it, greatly enlarged.
“One day,” said Anderson, “I got two letters in the same mail, one from Bill Green, one from John L. Lewis. I noticed the difference in the signatures, and had them ‘blown up’ in photostat.”
“If you want to know the future of the AFL and the CIO, look at those signatures.”
The Green signature was in a small, cramped hand, with a wavering, uncertain stroke. The Lewis signature was large, bold, and flourishing.
direct relief required of the government, shows public recognition of their value.
Ed Wynn is going to appear in a new play entitled “Hooray For What?” The answer probably is, “Hooray For Ed!”
A lot of scared citizens who sold their stock on the way down may soon be trying to borrow enough money to buy it back.
It’s odd that, with this Charles S. Ross kidnapping case in Chicago, nobody seems to recall the first Charlie Ross.
Wallis can never be Queen of England; but never mind—she’s Queen of Style.

Aspirations ever have bothered him; he did not consider that, in his case, they were worth having. Anyway, he remarked to me long ago that he was sure the nomination was impossible of a candidate as far south as his home state of Tennessee—not in his generation.
It might be possible now. John N. Garner is mentioned, and Garner is older than Hull and from farther south also—Texas.
But Garner will not be nominated, either. He is not suggested seriously.
I suppose a man who had attained the White House at the age, say, of 60 (and that is considered old) might be re-nominated, but no man of 64 or more would stand an initial chance in a national convention.
TOO GOOD TO OVERLOOK
Cordell Hull was so almighty good that the Roosevelt administration literally had to have him for “window dressing” when it came into power.
That, I am positive, is all for which the administration intended him.
His obvious design was to have Raymond Moley really run the state department. And that is what Moley would have done if Hull had not been of chilled steel construction.

Tim had an inspiration. He shook his head.
“That’s nonsense, Adams, and I should have thought you would have known it. If I stand my trial you’ll be a prosecution witness, and prosecution witnesses aren’t allowed to write for the newspapers—at least, in England. Do you mean to say you didn’t know that?”
The bluff seemed to be working. It seemed, as Tim had conjectured, that Adams had only the vaguest idea of the workings of the law. He looked taken aback.
“I didn’t know it, and I don’t know it now. Who told you?”
“It’s well known. Ask this solicitor of yours, if you don’t believe me. No, Adams, all you stand to get that way is witness expenses and a good deal of notoriety. Not the sort that would help you to get another job. Whereas if you come to terms with me you get £500, and I’ll give you a damn good reference in the bargain, if you want to go on working.”
Adams considered. “No, it’s not good enough, Kennedy,” he said at last. “I told you my reasons before and they still hold good. I prefer the present arrangement.”
“But I don’t, and I tell you I’m not going on with it. Look at it this way, too. It’s come to my ears that you have been gossiping about me in the town. I don’t say you’ve let out much so far, and I don’t suppose you will so long as you keep sober, but there’s no knowing what you may not say when you are drunk. And then it may be too late to draw back. I’ll be ruined all right, but your nice little income will come to an end. You had better not give up the substance for the shadow.”
“Hm!” Adams stubbed out his cigar. “I want to think this over.” He sat in silence for two or three minutes, Tim waiting in eager expectancy. But he affected indifference, going over to the sofa by the window and opening the newspaper.
“You needn’t put on those airs with me,” said Adams at last. “This means a lot to you, and I know it. Maybe there’s something in what you say. Going on the

DIET AND HEALTH
Suffer From Chilblains? How to Prevent It
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
I SAW FIVE sick people in a clinic the other day, all suffering from disturbance in the circulation of their feet. One of them was a potential case of chilblains. That is, he was a case of chilblains last winter, and may possibly be next winter, although he has been taking some preventive treatment this summer and fall which it is hoped may reduce the incidence, or perhaps even entirely prevent his attacks.
All of these conditions are in some way interrelated. The feet are in bad shape as regards circulation and gangrene, which is lack of circulation, is commoner in the feet than anywhere else in the body. The ways in which the feet suffer on the basis of circulation are two. First, the circulation tends to get bad in any peninsula away from the heart, which makes the arterial circulation of the feet faulty, and, second, the feet are dependent, and the load of blood which goes up from them in returning to the heart suffers under more mechanical stress than blood returning from any other part of the body, which makes the venous circulation bad.
The arteries of the feet, like the arteries of all other parts of the body, are under the control of the vegetative nervous system. This system works while you sleep and entirely without your volition or control. When a certain kind of impulse shoots along these nerve tendons to the arteries of the feet, their muscles contract, the amount of blood that goes through them is diminished and the parts blanch.
To attempt to improve this, treatment before the onset of cold weather consists in a period of elevation of the feet for several minutes several times during the day, and morning and nightly use of contrast baths for the feet—putting them first into very hot, then into very cold water.
Chilblains, obviously, is a condition somewhat like these, in that the victim has unstable circulation in the feet which is upset by cold and damp.
A different condition, first described by our American physician, S. Weir Mitchell, goes by the jaw-breaking name, erythromelalgia. Here the foot flushes and gets purple and painful.
Chilblains, obviously, is a condition somewhat like these, in that the victim has unstable circulation in the feet which is upset by cold and damp.

DEAD RECKONING By BRUCE HAMILTON
CHAPTER 43
“NOW, WAIT a minute, Kennedy,” Adams sat down in an armchair as Tim delivered his ultimatum of £500 for the letter he held over the dentist’s head. “You’re talking pretty big, but you are making a mistake. You seem to think if I take the letter to the police I won’t get anything out of it. That’s where you’re wrong. If you stand your trial, I’ll be the star witness, my name will be in all the papers, and I’ll be able to write articles about the Kennedy household and all that sort of thing. I could get almost anything I asked for them—certainly as much as I could get out of you. So you see it isn’t quite useless or nothing, as you put it.”
Tim lowered his eyes.
“I’m not seeing Mrs. Shepherd now.”
“Given you the chuck, has she?”
“I’m not surprised, the way you’ve been getting. You’re too old for her, anyway.”
Tim turned a white, tortured face on his persecutor. “Will you please leave Mrs. Shepherd out of this discussion?”
“All right, I was only trying to help you. The point is, my price is £1,000.”
“I tell you I haven’t got it.”
“All right—I’ll carry on as before.”
“Wait!” Tim was speaking the truth when he said he did not see how he could raise the money. But it was something to have got a concession of the principle: it would be better to play for time. “I don’t see how I can possibly do it,” he added. “But if I can it would be worth while. I’ll do my best. I’ll let you know what luck I’ve had in a day or two.”
“O. K. by me,” said Adams.
It turned out a fine night, and Tim, who had been none the better lately for the want of exercise, went for a long walk. In the course of it he turned over in his mind all possible sources of raising money.
“Friends,” he had many in the town, but none so intimate as to be likely to come forward with so substantial a sum as was needed. Dr. Harold Arkwright was probably the nearest to him, but Arkwright was notoriously a little close with money. A loan of £5 would be painful enough to him, and £500 was out of the question.
Movable property? Apart from the furniture, part of which he would shortly be needing, Tim owned nothing of any particular value. In any case, second-hand furniture always went at a sacrifice. He doubted if a sale of the effects at The Wilderness would raise more than a few hundred pounds. Still, it might come to that.
Professional moneylenders? No security worth mentioning. Tim wondered what exactly was meant by “on note of hand alone.” Nothing any good to him, he conjectured, only the prospect of financial entanglement from which he would hardly ever break loose.

Poems That Live
“SHE WAS YOUNG AND BLITHE AND FAIR”
She was young and blithe and fair,
Firm of purpose, sweet and strong;
Perfect was her crown of hair,
Perfect most of all her song.
Yesterday beneath an oak,
She was chanting in the wood:
Wandering harmonies awoke;
Sleeping echoes understood.
Today without a song, without a word,
She seems to drag one piteous fallen wing
Along the ground, and, like a wounded bird,
Move silent, having lost the heart to sing.
She was young and blithe and fair,
Firm of purpose, sweet and strong;
Perfect was her crown of hair,
Perfect most of all her song.

Automotive engineers must think they live a frustrated life. They spend a year improving everything from the dashboard ash tray to the tail light and then some sap slaps the whole works against a curb.
Then there are some drivers who forget that if car manufacturers intended their product to be left out in the rain all

Mrs. Yates in Charge of Entertainment by Division

Mrs. Melvin A. Yates, chairman of the Music division of the Monday club, opened the meeting Monday evening with a few appropriate lines by Edna St. Vincent Millay:

Reject me not into the world again.

With you is excellence and peace, Mankind made plausible, his purpose plain.

A representative audience of club members was present for the first evening of music of the club year. Mrs. Martin Cromley read an interesting paper which dealt with "Women Composers of Today." Mrs. G. D. Phillips, president, conducted the regular business hour following the program. The report of Mrs. Emmitt L. At this time the program will be presented by the Home Arts and Decoration division under the direction of Miss Carrie Johnson. Mrs. Harriet Kirkpatrick, of Columbus, will speak on "Understanding Modern Art."

Resolutions of respect in the death of Miss Mary Radcliffe, a former club member, were read by Mrs. Harry Lewis.

WIND BLOWS GAS BACK IN FACES OF JAP TROOPS

Use Of Poisonous Fumes Acts As Boomerang In Shanghai Area

The Japanese advance south along the western fringe of the international settlement. The Japanese strove desperately to push their advance lines around the western side in an effort to encircle Shanghai.

A Japanese spokesman said that Japanese units occupied positions along the south bank of Szechow creek before attempting a further push to the south.

Japanese authorities capitulated to a United States marine order for the return of a Chinese junk which they had taken during an invasion of the American defense sector.

The incident for a while threatened to become serious. U. S. marine officials refused to drop the matter because the first Japanese apology for the invasion had not been accompanied by the return of the junk. After a number of tense hours, the Japanese high command met all conditions and the incident was closed.

Okoti Apologizes

Rear Admiral Denkiti Okoti, commander of a Japanese naval landing party, expressed Japan's regrets and his personal apologies to Maj. Gen. John C. Beaumont, the marine commandant.

Wife's Wish For Return To U. S. Results In Suicide

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 2.—(UP)—The desire of Aranka Midos, 1936 "Miss Hungary" and "Miss Philadelphia," to return to the United States was believed by authorities today to have caused her husband to commit suicide.

Her husband, Johannes Scalay, 29, allegedly burned himself to death in a hay stack after his wife had told him she no longer could stand farm life and wanted to return to the United States.

The couple left the United States when Scalay inherited a farm near Concora last year.

19,000 OFFICERS WATCH GOTHAM'S MAYOR'S VOTING

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Every policeman in the five boroughs and thousands of private watchers were on duty today to prevent disorder and irregularity in New York's important city election.

With the early weather brisk and sunny voters turned out in record-breaking numbers for a mayoralty election to decide between Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia and Tammany Hall's Jeremiah T. Mahoney. A La Guardia triumph was expected.

The police—19,000 of whom were on duty—held 2,075 warrants for use in event of attempts to cast illegal votes. The Honest Ballot Association sent out more than 100 patrol cars, each carrying extra watchers, election instruction booklets and challenge lists totaling 4,500 names.

charge, the officers ordered them to come out. They answered with a burst of gunfire. Police then tossed a tear gas bomb into the post-office interior and turned loose a barrage of machinegun and shotgun fire.

Both men fell as the officers fired through shattered windows of the postoffice building. When the gas fumes cleared the officers entered. They found the bodies of both bandits riddled, with 10 or more bullets in each.

"BORGIA" DENIES POISONING AGED CINCINNATI MEN

Anna Marie Hahn Resting While Jurors Are Given Day For Voting

Obendorfer to a hospital when he became ill, and had insisted that he eat despite his protests that he had only $4.85 and didn't want to spend it. Hoodin asked if she had poisoned Obendorfer.

"No, I never, never did that," she replied, wide-eyed. "Why, I never did such a thing in my life."

Mrs. Hahn appeared distressed by the testimony of George Heis, who had been brought into court, pale and emaciated in a wheel chair, to charge that she had poisoned his food and beer, and had fed him spinach so sweet that "it tasted like it had sugar in it."

Tried To Be Good

"I tried to be so good to him," the plainly-dressed defendant told the jury of 11 women and one man. "I felt so terrible about it."

She testified that she made pancakes for Heis because "he pined for home cooking," and denied that she ever "drank beer with him."

Earlier, after her son had testified in her defense, Mrs. Hahn admitted forging a $1,000 check with Wagner's name the day he died. She said he wanted her to have the money "to take care of everything."

Hoodin showed her a will bearing Wagner's name, leaving his entire estate to his "beloved niece, Anna M. Hahn," a document which the state likewise contended was a forgery.

OHIO STATE, INDIANA EXPECTED TO PLAY GREAT DEFENSIVE GAME

BUCKEYES' LINE HALTS ALL BUT CALIFORNIA '11'

Hoosiers Give Only 19 Points In Their Games Played To Date

FORDHAM APPEARS FIT

Schoenbaum On Sidelines For Practice

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2 — (UP) — The two finest defensive teams in the Western conference will be pitted against each other here Saturday when Ohio State and Indiana clash in one of the season's outstanding Big Ten battles.

Ohio, while far below the standard offensive strength of other seasons, has come up with a rugged line that has stopped all but one opponent.

In five games thus far the Bucks have allowed only 13 points to be scored on them and the entire lot was garnered by Southern California. The big Scarlet forward wall has kept Texas Christian, Purdue, Northwestern and Chicago from crossing the goal line.

Almost as impressive is the scant total Indiana has allowed while running up against teams at least equally as tough as those met by Ohio.

19 in Three Games

In five games the Hoosiers have permitted their opponents to score only 19 points. Minnesota and Illinois made six each at the expense of Coach Bo McMillin's proteges and Nebraska secured seven. Of the other Big Ten teams only Northwestern has a defensive record comparable to Ohio and Indiana. The Wildcats have given their foes only 20 points.

The other Western conference eleven follow in this order on the basis of defensive play: Illinois, 26 points; Minnesota, 34 points; Purdue, 34 points; Wisconsin, 41 points; Iowa, 54 points; Michigan, 70 points, and Chicago, 100 points.

Forrest Fordham, hard-running sophomore fullback who was injured in the Southern California game, took his first hard work-out since the Trojan contest yesterday. Fordham appeared fit, but Coach Francis A. Schmidt said it was extremely doubtful if he would use the Toledo boy Saturday.

Schoenbaum Out

The only Buck player not participating in yesterday's drill was Alex Schoenbaum, the bull-necked tackle. Schoenbaum was on the sidelines with a bad ankle. He is expected back in action late in the week.

ARMY-NAVY GAME TO BE SELL-OUT IN PHILADELPHIA

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 2 — (UP) — The Army-Navy football game to be contested Nov. 27 at Municipal stadium, Philadelphia, will be a sell-out again this year.

It was announced yesterday, the deadline for ticket applications, that 400,000 persons had sought the 102,291 seats available. This year's gate will total $450,080.40 — tickets are $4.40 each — of which the schools will split $409,164. The difference, $40,916.40 — goes to the government for tax.

GOODMAN RISKS TITLE

RESERVE COACH GLAD STREAK IS CUT

Bill Edwards' First Loss Comes After 28 Games as Cleveland Mentor

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2 — "Well, I'm glad it's over. We had to lose some time and the boys have been under a terrific strain trying to keep up with that winning streak. Now we'll start another."

So said Big Bill Edwards, football coach of the Western Reserve university football team which after winning 18 straight games and gone through 28 contests without suffering a defeat, lost to Dayton university's flyers, unbeaten Ohio outfit.

The loss to Dayton was the first suffered by Big Bill since he took over the coaching reins at Reserve in 1935 on the death of Salem Sam Willaman, former Ohio State head coach. And despite the loss, Reserve's streak and Big Bill's record will go down as something to be proud of.

Coal Miner's Son

Big Bill, who did his football playing at Massillon, O., Kiski prep and Wittenberg, O., college, is the son of a coal miner. Bill was named "All-Ohio" as a line-man at Wittenberg.

Only 32 now, Edwards looks to be on the way to football coaching prominence even though Reserve is not one of the nation's major football teams.

Incidentally, Western Reserve university, contrary to general opinion, isn't a small school. With a student enrollment of 8,000, it is second to Ohio State in Ohio and in the upper ranks among the nation's larger institutions. Its scholastic rating is high.

Stars on the Red Cat team this year, which is a heavy, smooth-working squad, are Phil Ragazzo, Cleveland boy and All-Ohio tackle; Frank (Doc) Kelker, Dover, O., Negro end who gained All-American rating last year; Jim Lucas, of Sharpsville, Pa., a shift-sophomore back, and Johnny

Grid Spotlight Swings To South Bend Contest

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 — (UP) — The gridiron spotlight swings this Saturday to South Bend where the steadily climbing Irish of Notre Dame encounter Pittsburgh's mighty Panthers in the No. 1 game of the day.

Although beaten by Carnegie Tech and tied by Illinois, the Irish finally have begun to click and should offer the Panthers rugged opposition in the 12th game of this series.

Elsewhere the early November battling should be up to the high standard set during October with important conference games featuring the program.

The handful of perfect record eleven all have tough assignments. California, the giant of the Pacific coast, meets Washington, defending champions. Baylor, unbeaten in the Southwest, plays Texas. Colorado meets Utah U. and Montana encounters Gonzaga in feature games in the Rocky Mountain sector. Unbeaten Santa Clara has a breather in San Jose State. Unbeaten Alabama tangles with Tulane in the feature game of the Southeastern conference while the last perfect record eleven, Lafayette, has a strong foe in Rutgers.

The unbeaten but tied brigade also figures in some of the day's standout battles. Fordham, tied only by Pittsburgh and already casting eyes on the Rose Bowl, faces Purdue. Yale and Dartmouth, who soiled each other's records last Saturday by battling to a 9-9 tie, respectively face Brown and Princeton. Villanova faces Marquette; Holy Cross meets Colgate; Temple, tied three times, plays Michigan State; Duke meets Wake Forest and Nebraska, tied by Oklahoma, faces Kansas, holder of the big six conference lead.

FRANKFORT BEATS TIGER RESERVES IN 47 TO 0 GAME

Circleville Tigers reserves, victorious two weeks ago over the Frankfort team, lost a 47-0 decision Monday afternoon on the Ross county gridiron.

Coach Jack Landrum took all his squad except his seniors to Frankfort, and he used all of the boys in an effort to stem the tide of touchdowns being run up by the home team.

The Red and Black varsity travels to Logan Friday night for a game against the speedy team from the Hooking county seat. After the Logan game come Grove City and Urbana the former contest at home and the latter on the road.

PRESIDENT TELLS R. F. C. EXECUTIVE TO FINANCE LOANS FOR CORN

MANY MILLIONS TO BE REQUIRED FOR NEW PLAN

Roosevelt Changes Mind
For Time Being About
Liquidating Unit

WIRE SENT TO JONES

Commodity Corporation To Handle Funds

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 —(UP)—The urgent need for $85,000,000 to finance federal corn and other commodity loans compelled President Roosevelt today to revive the Reconstruction Finance Corporation which was ordered last month to liquidate its business.

In a telegram from Hyde Park, N. Y., to Chairman Jesse Jones Mr. Roosevelt directed that the R.F.C. provide $85,000,000 to the Commodity Credit Corporation for loans, principally on corn.

The president explained that he would ask congress on Nov. 15 to provide the Commodity Credit Corporation with "ample capital" for future needs and with authority to raise its own funds for future operations.

"This legislation," his telegram said, "should authorize annual appropriations to be made available to the corporation to cover any impairment of its capital as shown by an appraisal of its assets from year to year. Under this plan, each year's budget will reflect the losses, if any, sustained by the corporation."

The president said that the corn loan drain on federal funds had been foreseen in his budget submission of Oct. 18. The implication was that the loans would not increase the net $695,000,000 deficit estimated now for this fiscal year which will end June 30, 1938.

Corn loans have been expected here for some time although the budget summation of Oct. 18 seemed to eliminate all sources of revenue when it was accompanied by a statement that the R.F.C. was to be liquidated. Mr. Roosevelt explained in that statement that there were $405,000,000 of undisbursed commitments on R.F.C. books exclusive of certain statutory commitments and undertakings to supply the Public Works administration with funds. He believed some commitments would be cancelled by failure of prospective borrowers to meet stipulated conditions.

"I have determined," Mr. Roosevelt wrote on Oct. 18, "that no further commitments should be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, other than for administrative expenses x x x." The telegram to Jones nullified that order, for the time being.

Fossil Teeth Found

ALAMOSA, Colo. (UP)—Fossils excavated at a depth of four feet near here have been identified tentatively as teeth of the prehistoric Imperial mammoth elephant. It is known that a species of mastodons roamed Colorado and Wyoming in the Pleistocene age, but the fossils found near here were the first of their type discovered west of Texas.

Boots for Cows in Britain

LONDON (UP)—So successful have been rubber boots for sheep to cure foot-rot that a British rubber company have now made a seamless rubber boot for cows. Like the sheep boot, it is an effective preventive as well as facilitating the swift cure of diseases which have cost farmers thousands of pounds.

COMMITTEE FROM COUNCIL TO MEET WITH SOLICITOR

Council's finance committee, consisting of Ben Gordon, C. O. Leist and J. H. Helwage, will meet with Carl C. Leist, solicitor, at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday to consider bids on the city's $60,000 note issue for the disposal plant. Deadline for submitting bids is 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Council recently decided to issue notes in anticipation of a bond issue for the plant. They agreed funds would be available sooner through the note issue. Notices of the sale of the notes have been sent to local banks and various bond firms.

A $75,000 bond issue was approved by Circleville voters for the disposal plant. Sometime ago council issued $15,000 worth of notes to take care of preliminary expenses on the plant. These notes were purchased by Circleville's national banks, each taking $5,000 worth of notes.

A regular meeting of council will be held Wednesday evening. Members believed their session may be late in starting due to the meeting of the finance committee. Mr. Leist said no legislation has been prepared for the council session.

EDUCATORS PLAN DAYTON TRIP FOR FRIDAY MEETING

Some of Pickaway county's schools will be closed Friday for teachers to attend the Central Ohio Teachers Assn. meeting in Dayton. The meeting will be held Friday and Saturday.

George McDowell, superintendent of county schools, said Tuesday he had not received a complete report of the schools that will close. A vote of the teachers of the schools is being taken and approval of the closing is made by the boards of education.

The Circleville schools will not close for teachers to attend the meeting. Local teachers observed a "Visiting Day" last Spring and visited other schools.

LEADER OF BIRD GANG SENTENCED TO 45-YEAR TERM

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2 —(UP)—Captured last week by federal authorities, Frank Bird, Missouri bandit, today was under a sentence of 45 years in prison.

Pleading guilty late yesterday before Federal Judge Paul Jones, he was sentenced on two bank robbery charges. Authorities said he escaped Missouri penitentiary convict probably would serve his term in Alcatraz prison.

Bird, and his brother, Charles, and James Widmer, in fleeing jail here five weeks ago, injured a woman fatally with a getaway automobile, and tossed a police judge from another in changing cars.

Widmer a fortnight ago was captured in Philadelphia, later sentenced to 65 years in Alcatraz. The other Bird still is at large.

When sentenced Frank Bird pleaded for mercy for his wife, Sylvia, whom he said he "talked into" assisting him in the jail break.

Mrs. Bird was questioned concerning the gang's possible connection with the slaying of a state highway patrolman at Freepoint, O.

OHIO FARM GROUP TO CONTINUE ITS R. E. A. ASSISTANCE

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2 — (UP)—The Ohio Farm Bureau will continue its activities in promoting Rural Electrification work in Ohio's counties despite its "mutual" partial severance of relations with the Federal Rural Electrification Administration, Murray D. Lincoln, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau, said today.

Murray said: "It is true that we have decided not to accept responsibility for engineering activities on new projects, which work we accepted in the beginning of R. E. A. projects in this state about two years ago. We have completed such work in eight counties and are now working in 20 other counties, which work we expect to continue and complete within four to six months."

"Any new cooperative electrical projects will make other arrangements for their engineering contracts."

The Bureau accepted engineering contracts in connection with R.E.A. projects at the beginning of the movement to speed activities. The federal R.E.A. heads have been notified of the organization's discontinuance of engineering services for new projects, Lincoln said.

The bureau, however, will continue promotion and sponsoring of cooperative rural electrification associations and the dropping of the engineering services has no bearing on the state organization's campaign to promote such projects.

Severe Winter Predicted
RHINELANDER, Wis. (UP)—Conservation wardens believe that frequent raids by northern Wisconsin bears on kitchens, gardens, orchards and beehives indicates the coming of a severe winter. Other wildlife students insist, however, that the bears have been driven to the raids by a shortage of berries.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

MAKING A NEW ENTRY

SOMETIMES an apparently unnecessary finesse must be taken in order to create an extra entry to take a finesse in a different suit which is utterly obligatory. In other words, finessees are not merely for the purpose of shutting out some winning card held by the opposition. They are also for the purpose of building extra entries into a hand.

North and South reached a contract of 4-Spades on this deal after an opening bid of 1-Spade by South, 2-Spades by North, three by South and four by North.

The club K was West's opening lead, followed by the A and then a small one to East's Q, in response to East's signals. It was now up to the declarer to cash the remainder of the tricks. This seemed a simple matter after the return of the diamond 8, which was won in the dummy with the A, until the first lead of trumps indicated that East held four. Declarer led to the heart A and finessed the trump 9, but was obliged to give up one trump trick. There was one more possible entry in dummy, which South should have used, and that was to try the finesse of the heart J. Even if this had failed, it was worth trying, as the contract was set otherwise and there was a 50-50 chance that the heart J would hold. In that event the heart K, overtaken with the third needed entry, and the contract would have been made.

Youthful Actor to Stay His Aunt, Court Decides

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Freddie Bartholomew loved his aunt, he didn't love his parents, and he was quite contented with the decision of superior court that he should remain in his aunt's custody.

He ended another day and another of his episodes at court by a formal handshake with his mother, Mrs. Lillian May Bartholomew, a polite nod toward his father, Cecil Bartholomew. Then he dismissed them both with a calm "goodbye," took his aunt by the hand and walked away.

Betrothal "Bunk"?

The parents did not seem grieved, although they came all the way from London hoping to win him back.

Some of the things they said about each other in court might have been unkindly, but when they met outside, the Bartholomews, including the guardian aunt, Miss Mylicent Bartholomew, were civil in their greetings.

Placed at Age of Three

The parents had placed Freddie with his aunt when he was three years old. He was then just another child of London with the average future prospects. His father is a fish inspector.

Now Freddie is 13. He earns $98,000 a year in the movies. He sends his parents 10 percent of his income and they have no other access to him, except to see his image in the London cinemas.

The parents were willing for Miss Bartholomew to rear the boy and they were agreeable when she applied to adopt him last Spring, although there were several months of preliminary arguments. These were settled with an agreement for distributing Freddie's salary.

Several weeks ago the parents sued to have the adoption annulled. At the time Miss Bartholomew was keeping Freddie away from his studio, demanding a larger salary for him, and meanwhile his salary and his parents' percentage had been stopped.

Judge Robert Scott heard the rival claims yesterday.

Freddie came in wearing a new serge suit with long pants. His mother leaned over his chair and kissed him on the forehead. He turned, noticed her for the first time, and said: "Oh, oh, hello." It was the first time he had seen his mother in several months.

Called By Judge

When he was called to the stand, Freddie stood with one hand in his pocket while taking the oath. The judge rebuked him gently. Freddie flushed, fumbled with his hand, just as any boy might do in any court. But he apologized with an Oxford accent: "I'm sorry, your honor."
